Early Years Stay and Play

For children with additional needs

An opportunity for parents to develop different play ideas that can support their child with additional needs to make progress with their development.

The Stay and Play sessions provided at Acorn Centre will ensure a multi agency approach working with parents / carers and other agencies.

The sessions will provide a play plan. It will aim to focus on one area of development and support a number of different play ideas that can support with achieving the target.

The Stay and Play opportunities will model the play activities with the parent / carer and child so that they could continue the fun ways to support their child at home to help them learn and develop.

The play plan will be reviewed regularly with the parents to record successes, note progress and support next steps, supporting parents to develop their thoughts about hopes and aspirations for their child's future.

The play plan can be used to support the plan, do and review process and the Tameside EY panel.
